Outdoor Learning for Core Subjects

Build staff confidence in taking maths and English outdoors.

During this practical session, your staff will explore:

- Identify and overcome common barriers to outdoor learning within your school
- Experience engaging outdoor maths activities suitable across the primary age range
- Explore practical English and spelling activities that bring literacy learning outdoors
- Establish behaviour-for-learning using boundary games
- Understand the research behind outdoor learning and its impact on engagement, inclusion, behaviour and attainment
- Discover practical PSHE activities that promote collaboration and communication
- Apply their learning by designing their own outdoor maths lesson and receive personalised feedback to support implementation

Putting Learning into Practice

Every participant will finish the session by planning their own outdoor lesson using the ideas explored during the training. We'll provide individual feedback and practical suggestions to help staff leave feeling confident to deliver their first outdoor lesson back at school.
